Performance instructions

All performers should play the same score starting at the same time.

Due to the indeterminate nature of the piece it is not expected that performers will remain in unison throughout.

Tempo is indicated by the timings in minutes and seconds on the top right of each staff. These timings are guidelines only and do not need to be strictly adhered to.

Cross note heads  $(\times \otimes)$  indicate that an unpitched sound should be made. What sound is made on these is open to the performer.

When singing pitched material, the vocal sound to use is indicated beneath the score (Ah_, Oh_, Hum_). This sound should be used for all pitched vocalisations after this indication until a different sound is indicated.

Low resolution sections of score should be interpreted as best as possible. You should not pre-decide and rehearse what you are going to play, each performance should be different.

Boxed text across the top of the score indicates whether that section is for voice and/or viola.

And: voice and viola

Or : choose between voice or viola

And/Or: you may choose to use both voice and viola or only one

Once you decide which instrument to use you should keep with this instrument until the next boxed text.

Articulations (staccato and tenuto) can be articulated using extended techniques should the performer choose to do so.
